Introduction to the day

P: Jesus' parable about two sons who don't do what reveals surprises in the reign of God, such as pro tax collectors going before others into God's king reading from Ezekiel the people question whether of the Lord are unfair; instead they are to repent the Lord. Paul urges us to look to Christ as a mod humility, looking to the interests of others above o Nourished by the broken bread and shared cup, v lives for the sake of our needy world.

C: Amen.

PRAYER OF THE DAY

P: Let us pray. (A brief silence.)

C: God of love, giver of life, you know our frailties and failings. Give us your grace to overcome them from those things that harm us, and guide us to the way of salvation, through Jesus Christ, our Savior. Amen.

CHILDREN'S CHURCH

FIRST READING: Ezekiel 18:1-4, 25-32

A reading from Ezekiel, the 18th chapter.

The word of the LORD came to me: What do you mean repeating this proverb concerning the land of Israel, "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge"? As I live, says the Lord GOD, this proverb shall not be used by you in Israel. Know that all lives are mine: the life of the parent as well as the life of the child is mine: it is only the person who sins that shall die. Yet you say, "The way of the LORD is unfair." Hear now, O house of Israel: Is my way unfair? Is it not your ways that are unfair? When the righteous turn away from their righteousness and commit iniquity, they shall die because of the iniquity that they have committed; they shall die because of the iniquity that they have committed. When the wicked turn away from the wickedness they have committed and do what is lawful and right, they shall save their lives. When they are considered and turned away from all the transgressions they had committed, they shall surely live; they shall not die. The house of Israel says, "The way of the Lord is unfair." Is it not your ways that are unfair? Is it not your ways that will judge you, O house of Israel, all of you according to your sins; says the Lord GOD. Repent and turn from all your sins; otherwise iniquity will be your ruin. Cast away the transgressions that you have committed against yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will the house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, says the Lord GOD. Turn, then, and live.

O LORD, God, word of life.
Glory be to God.

Scripture Reading from Psalm 25

O LORD, I lift up my soul.

O LORD, I put my trust in you; let me not be put to shame, nor let my enemies triumph over me.

Do not let those who look to you be put to shame; rather let those who hope in you be put to shame who are treacherous.

Remember your ways, O LORD, and teach me your paths.

Do not forsake me in your truth and teach me, for you are the God of our salvation; in you have I trusted all the day long.

Remember, O LORD, your compassion and love, for they have been mine from everlasting.

Remember not the sins of my youth and my transgressions; do not punish me according to your steadfast love and for the sake of your goodness, O LORD.

O LORD, be gracious and upright, O LORD; therefore you will not forsake your sinners in your way.

Do not rebuke the lowly in justice and teach the lowly your way.

Scripture Reading: Philippians 2:1-13

From Philippians, the 2nd chapter.

Let there be in you any encouragement in Christ, any consolation or joy from sharing in the Spirit, any compassion and sympathy, any love, any peace, any joy complete: be of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind. Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility regard others as better than yourselves. Let each of you look not to your own interests, but to the interests of others.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
